We publish also other accounts showing that the hordes of nurderers were gutle ering around devoted Lawrence, where the Free State men were preparing for a desperate defence. The attack may be delayed for some days, as the attacking party will be cautious about their movements when the Lawrence men are on their guard.

All the avenues to the territory, by which assistance can be given to the beleaguered free erans of the Lake, attentive to his duty, constate men, are guarded by large bodies of rufmany, and no aid can be got in except by ar ned parties. Aid in that form will, then, be rendered, and must be rendered speedily to be of

We received on Saturday night a letter from our late foreman, Mr. Ross, dated Lawrence, 27th, where he is enlisted in defence of the city. He fully confirms the accounts of the outrages, murders, &c., committed by the parties of ruffians, and of the danger of Lawrence. We shall publish the letter to-morrow.

It has taken three millions of African negroes out of a destined to be formed into States; and it was tate of barbarism and the lowest degradation, then determined that na slavery should exist in western territory, which, it was understood, was destined to be formed into States; and it was then determined that na slavery should exist in this formitary. I gather now, as a matter of inference, from the history of the debates, that the prevailing motives with the North for agreeing to this recognition of the existence of Sinvery in these States founded in part upon their slaves, the states founded in part upon their slaves, the states founded in part upon their slaves, which these States founded in part upon their slaves, the southern frontier of this country, either by cession or conquest. No one looked to any acquisition of new territory on the Southern and South-western familier. The exchain of Slave ity from the North-western Territory, and the prospectave abolition of the foreign slave trale were generally, the former anamanously, agreed to; and on the basis of these considerations, the should not be interfered with, and that it should not be interfered with, and that it should have a certain ratio of expresentation in Congress.

> And wherever that local law does not extend. property in person does not crist. Well, sir, what is now the demand of our Southern friends? what is now the demand of our Southern friends? They say, "We will carry our local laws with us wherever we go--we insist that Congress does us injustice unless it establishes in the Territory in which we wish to go our own local law." This demand I, for one, resist, and shall resist. It goes upon the idea that there is no equality, vuless persons under this local law, and holding property by the authority of that law, can go into new Territory, and there establish that local law to the exclusion of the general law. law to the exclusion of the general law.

Hr. President, it was a maxim of the civil liw kir. President, it was a maxim of the civil luvitat between shavery and foedom, freedom should always be presumed, and slavery mast always be proved. Slavery is an exception to the general rule. Such, I suppose, is the general two of mankind. An individual is to be presumed to be free, until a law can be produced which creates ownership of his person.

Now confidend around to think that a rice.

Now our friends seem to think that an inequality arises from restraining them from going into the Territories, unless there he a law provided which shall protect their ownership in perions. The assertion is, that we create an ir a Advocate of Mayory in Washings WEST BEED, Sept. 8d, 1856. EDITORS SENTINEL: I find in the last issue of our county paper here a short enlogy on the blessings and benign effects of that very pure domes tic institution in our country, called Slavery, over the signature of "David Hartwell." Hear the great philanthropist! "I am a Free State man. I am an advocate of Southern rights, and

f decoration; for beauty and strength of model; for great speed and all sea-worthy qualities; for bundant precautions against the dangers of fire or shipwreck; and for all requisites, in short, de-correspon lent has said respecting the benighted feather, among ourselves." A writer in the Western Laminary, a Southern paper, once said: We stand here now, at least I do, for one, to say, that considering have newslaveholding states that heatherism is as real in the Slave States as that here now, at least I do, for one, to say, that considering have newslaveholding states that heatherism is as real in the Slave States as the same import; but these are enough to show the same import; but these are enough to show the high state of civilization among the slaves of the South. In view of such evidence, none but a truiter to breedom, a renegade politician, or a truiter to breedom, a renegade politician, or a Reverend defender of slavery on Biblo grounds, could ever have discovered the sublime blessings of slavery, the elevating and civilizing institution of American despotism!

We stand here now, at least I do, for one, to say, that considering out of newly acquired territory, and only one non-slaveholding state; I do not feel that I am called on to go in there; I do not feel that I am called on to go in there; I do not feel the obligation to yield more.

But out if leads on to go in the region of either I am willing, as an individual member of considerion which I am willing, as an individual member of Congress, to be judged by civilized humanity. We stand here now, at least I do, for one, to say, that considering have newslaveholding state; I do not feel that I am called on to go in there; I do not feel the obligation to yield more.

But out if leads on to go in the rection, and only one non-slaveholding state; I do not feel the obligation to yield more.

But out if leads of the Southaway You deprive us of all our rights. We have fought for this territory, and only one non-slaveholding state; I do not feel the obligation to yield more.
